“WINE MAKES DAILY
LIVING EASIER, LESS
HURRIED, WITH FEWER
TENSIONS AND MORE TOLERANCE.”

Benjamin Franklin

1706 - 1790

We are blessed with an endless choice of superb wines in South Africa. What determines if a particular vinification makes it onto the Grootbos wine list, however, is up to the discerning nose and palate of our sommelier. And because he is constantly on the lookout for new and exciting wines, our selection changes on a regular basis.

In line with our business philosophy, we focus our efforts on the Walker Bay and surrounding regions so that we can support the local economy and help maintain sustainable livelihoods.

Whether it is a delicate Chardonnay that will go well with your starter or a full-bodied Pinotage to enjoy with your main, our sommelier for the evening will be happy to assist you in creating the right pairing.

Don't be afraid of trying something new; of being a little adventurous. You might just discover a new favourite.

Cheers!

LIFE-GIVING WATER

THE GROOTBOS WATER BOTTLING PROJECT

Grootbos Private Nature Reserve, in partnership with The Grootbos Foundation has launched numerous sustainability initiatives, such as our candle-making, organic farming and honey production projects, which focus on minimizing waste, creating employment and ensuring that goods produced for the lodges at Grootbos are locally and ethically sourced. In that vein, the Foundation has established a water-bottling project to meet the bottled water needs of the Grootbos lodges, whilst helping to eliminate plastic from our nature reserve and creating new jobs for people from our local community.

The water we bottle comes directly from an aquifer located on the reserve, topped up naturally by rainwater after it seeps through many layers of ancient rock. Accessed by a 100m borehole, the water that is pumped out of this aquifer is completely pure and natural; with the layers of rock acting as a natural filter as the water passes through and adding precious minerals to it. After extraction, the water undergoes further filtering to ensure that it is clean, clear and ready for bottling and consumption. This system is solar powered, with a view to further reducing our carbon footprint on the reserve.

Operating under the 'Siyakhula' programme of the Grootbos Foundation, meaning 'together we are growing' our water bottling project benefits Grootbos in many ways. Our Lodge guests consume up to 40,000 bottles of water per year. This initiative utilizes recycled and reusable glass bottles, reducing waste, removing plastic bottles from the nature reserve and improving our carbon footprint. The project has created two new jobs for members of our local community and features the added benefit of providing you, our guests with authentic Grootbos water, bottled on site for your enjoyment.

MÉTHODE CAP CLASSIQUE

South Africa's answer to Champagne, Méthode Cap Classique (MCC) is bottle-fermented and disgorged true to French tradition. Although many top quality MCCs are still produced from Chardonnay, Pinot Noir and Pinot Meunier grapes, other varieties such as Chenin Blanc, Sauvignon Blanc and even Pinotage have been employed to make exciting styles of this refreshing wine. MCCs can be paired successfully with a number of dishes such as crayfish, mushroom or truffle risotto and lightly spiced dishes.

Riesling

Perhaps one of the most misunderstood white grapes in South Africa, it was previously recognised as sweet and cheap. Luckily wine lovers are now discovering its complexity and longevity in bottle. South African vinifications show crunchy flavours of lime, green apple and elder flower. Its aromatic profile makes it a winning pairing with seafood, Asian dishes, pork and fragrant curries. Many consider Riesling to be a great alternative to Sauvignon Blanc, unwooded Chardonnay or even Pinot Grigio providing something a bit unconventional.

Dessert Wines

NOBLE LATE HARVEST

Noble Late Harvest wines are created by allowing white grapes to become infected by Botrytis Cinerea, a type of fungus. During the desiccation process of the grape the natural acidity levels remain high, which prevents the wines from being too sweet. This results in an opulent, rich, almost oily texture with upfront fruit flavours in a honeyed juice. Pair it with salty cheeses or baked desserts with cinnamon.

STRAW WINE

Straw wine is a wine made from grapes that have been dried to concentrate their juice. The classic method dries clusters of grapes on mats of straw in the sun, but modern techniques have been developed in different parts of the world. Straw wines are typically sweet to very sweet white wines. The low yields and labour-intensive production method means that they are quite expensive.

Fortified Wines

Deliciously sweet and opulent in character, South African port-style fortified wines are commonly created from Portuguese varieties in accordance with the traditional methods and designated styles of Portugal. All port-style wines in South Africa are bottled under the prefix "Cape", however, due to the agricultural trade agreement signed between South Africa and the European Union.
